Reference Track, adopted Fall 2007.
Health Sciences Librarianship Track, adopted Fall 2008 (since delisted).
Dual MLIS & School Library Media Certification Program, co-developer, in effect since Spring 2008.

2002-2004   Part-time Instructor.
                School of Information and Library Science. Pratt Institute.
Taught graduate students in a face-to-face learning environment. Courses included Information Services and Resources (LIS 652), Fall 2002, and Spring 2003; Library Use Instruction (LIS 673), Spring 2004.

1999-2004   Associate Professor (2004-2005); Assistant Professor (1999-2004), tenure-track positions.
                Hunter College Libraries. Hunter College, City University of New York.

                Tenure granted September 1, 2003.

Responsibilities spanned teaching, general reference, and science collection development. Advised faculties in mathematics and the sciences on database searching techniques, new services, trial products, monograph selection/de-selection, print-to-electronic journal transfers, "hot topics," and faculty concerns. Maintained a suite of science Web pages and contributed to Web site evaluation. Performed mediated DIALOG searches. Through regularly-scheduled library skills teaching assignments and through special instructional projects, co-planned instruction tied to curricular goals/objectives with faculty.

EXPERIENCE-ADMINISTRATIVE

1996-1999   Associate Library Director for Educational Services, tenure-track position.
                Medical Research Library of Brooklyn. Downstate Medical Center. State University of New York.

Developed a library informatics curriculum (i.e., classes focusing upon computer-based information sources and online researching skills) for the medical center's academic programs. Began implementation and evaluation of this curriculum with selected research-intensive courses in the colleges of nursing and allied health. Designed Web-based tutorials on MEDLINE searching tailored to meet accreditation requirements for first-year residents and first-year medical students. Concurrently, re-vamped the library's Web site in consultation with the library's Web committee and an external consultant.

1990-1996   Head of the Learning Resource Center (LRC), tenure-track position. Medical Research Library of Brooklyn. Downstate Medical Center. State University of New York.

Tenured granted March 10, 1993.

Administered a 200+ seat facility (audiovisual equipment, computer carrels, viewing and training rooms); public-access microcomputers (PCs and Macintosh), a media collection of 1800+ programs, an annual budget in excess of $50K, 3 FTE's and a complement of part-

Team-taught with faculty, integrating library skills into K-6 classroom units of study; managed print/media collections and local/state/federal funding reports; supervised library science interns from Millersville University and part-time library aids; invited to represent the district's librarians in summer curriculum-writing sessions.

1972-1978   School Librarian.
              Wyalusing Area School District, Wyalusing, PA.
Conducted weekly library instructional periods in K-6 setting; managed print/media collections and local/state/federal funding reports; supervised two full-time library aids; invited to serve on district-wide projects (textbook evaluation, revision of reading skills continuum, Parent-Teachers' Association fundraising); instituted a read-a-thon under the auspices of the Multiple Sclerosis Society as an annual event for volunteer elementary school readers.
